I think the causes of the youth violence in my community is that people shoot other people because they have things they want or they hate the person because they're doing something better than them. Other reasons violence in my community starts because drama over the internet happens and they use violence to stop the drama but it's creating more drama than it was before. The causes of youth violence in my community is gangs and other reasons. I believe the causes of violence in my community is ignorant people that do not care if they take someone else's life away. Violence in my community starts for stupid reasons that is not needed. I believe violence is not the answer. I think leaving it alone and being the better person is. Violence is not a key to success. Violence doesn't solve nothing really and doesn't get you no where.
Violence in my community starts because other people are always worried about others or what they are doing. Other reasons things start in my community is people caught up in the shoes, phones they have and they can't afford it so they use violence to get them. I think that if their was no violence everything would be better. Youth violence is also from some kids house how when they see that anyone in your house is acting violence they think that you should also act like that. The causes of youth violence in my community are crimes and drama. Boys and girls are in the streets following other kids in the neighborhood. Violence is bad and not good for people and its not good for kids to see. I will not ever want to be in no kind of violence. I will stay away from it and be a leader to other people.
