I am thankful that I am not involved in violence. It's very bad, I believed it is. When I was eleven years old I seen a guy come up to a car and shoot at a person right in front of me. It was scary to watch. I hear everyday on my street about how they are going to beat one's butt or how they going to shoot up a home. It affects my life today because I feel like there is always danger where ever I go. It's sad to see people die or to see loved ones get hurt.

It affects other people because there fear about looking at the news or "Americans Most Wanted" because anyone can kill them or keep them hostage. It affects me and my life because anything can happen in the world. I just have to keep safe and watch out. Violence doesn't just effect you but everyone else and the community. It effects other people because they have lost a love one and they can't do anything to gain that person back.

The causes of youth violence is drugs. I say it's drugs because my cousin died off of drugs. Some kids do drugs out in the street, some go to jail and some get killed. Another reason is you ruin your life by doing stupid stuff with drugs. It kills people on the inside, it burns them into guilt.

What I can do to stop youth violence is putting the negative into the positive. Instead of posting negative nonsense, make them a positive one because it will help them get better and to learn about there mistakes and to teach them about what's wrong. How he / she can make it right.

Violence needs to stop killing people, stop killing each other. Violence doesn't need us, we need to change.
I hope this comment helps you understand the process better. Please let me know if you need any further assistance.

I wrote a short poem because my favorite song is your favorite song. I enjoy music as my hobby. Sometimes, my passion allows me to express myself through poetry. However, I'm not sure if I can improve on the quality of my poetry.

I also want to challenge you to write a similar poem. What is your favorite song? How does it make you feel? Share your thoughts with me.

I appreciate your dedication to this project. I believe that it takes time and effort to achieve great results. Your hard work is paying off. Keep up the great work.

I hope this feedback is helpful. I look forward to hearing more from you.
One way is good. Go green. People go green. We want to treat people the way we want to be treated.
