Youth Violence

There's always a time where parents call 9-1-1 and the police comes and see the child's blood flowing through the house. This is what happens when youth violence interfere on people's lives. Youth violence is when young people committing crime and risking their lives in jail. I believe that youth violence is the worst violence out there. Others noticed that youth violence in the world and want to go to the funeral and move on with their lives. I won't let this happen and want to stop it. But how? Right in this point, I will tell you the effects of youth violence.

There are several causes of youth violence and I feel that it is like a stairway. To stairway one is the cause of youth violence, such as gangs, bullies, drug dealers, and weapons. Or even drama. In my opinion, drama connects to youth violence because it makes people's lives more harder and taking it out of someone who is innocent (bullying). It could not be bullying, it could people having a hard time with another. Youth violence start with gangs, bullies, weapons, drugs, revenge, abuse and many more.

Continuing with the "staircase of youth violence" us we go to the effects of youth violence as known as level 2. After youth violence occurs in a neighborhood, it also affects it because people gather up to put teddy bears and roses to the Childs grave, kind of like a memorial. So the effects concerned the neighborhood crying sorrow tears on their face. When a victim is involve with violence, bystanders could be just traumatized because this could cause more violence for all of them.
Moving to the last level of the "staircase of youth violence" is how do youth violence effect my life? I am worried because I tend to be careful what specific places I should go. I'm use to people telling me to not go to dangerous places. Which makes me anxious what will happen to me. This is why imp so shy going outside. My parents seem to give me a curfew because they are scared what will happen at night. Which is understandable. What really ticks me off is people go to the funeral and then move on with their lives. They should make a memorial so people can remember how many kids get killed. and makes people realize they need to change the economy. We can make a march. join a group and more. o does the right thing.
