Violence affected my life because everywhere you go there is going to be violence because one person will start with someone else then they are tight then everyone try to jump in. Most people get into a gang and when the see the other gang member they start shooting. The cause of youth is gangs and parents that don't care about them. Parents that go and beat their kids and yell at them for no reason then you again go to a gang then get in trouble and go to jail then the mom or dad will leave them in jail then when they come out of jail they get back going where they was going before. I can stop youth violence by not starting with no one in the street.
