There was a household with a happily married couple with 2 girls named Jennifer and Susan and 1 boy named Brian. One day it all went bad when Brian was ready to go to college he had a good-bye party at a friend's house when their parents were not there. So when it was passed midnight everyone was drinking too much. After it was three o'clock in the morning one of the neighbors called the police and when people heard the sound of the police car they ran out of the house but some didn't so they were tested to see if they were drunk and the police found out that all of the people they caught were drunk and at that minute they sent them to the police department to lock them up until their parents come and pick them up. When Brian's parents came they were so angry at him they had packed all of his clothes and threw him in the street alone. When Jennifer and Susan found out that Brian did not come and that his clothes were gone they thought he left to college, but Jennifer was old enough to know that Brian would never leave them without saying good-bye. This was fishy to Jennifer so she started searching for Brian. Every day Jennifer would lie to her parents about looking for Brian because something told her that her parents had something to do with his disappearance. After a month has passed she called the police and when they heard about Brian they knew it was the drunk lid. When Jennifer's parents found out that Jennifer has called the police and her mom started hitting her and the police came back.
sensible to write here. How can I make sense of my notes?

I need to figure out how these ideas connect to the main points of the chapter. I see a better way to organize my notes to make them more meaningful. I need to think about how these ideas are related to each other. I need to make sure my notes are clear and easy to understand. I need to write my notes in a way that makes sense to me.
