There hasn’t been much violence in my life. One of those shocking times I still remember is that there are these 2 bad kids that live close to my street. They were very bad, many of my friends have gotten hurt by them. They just don’t know when to stop. They keep bothering you until you do something about it. One of my friends got really hurt by one of them and his nose was bleeding. He really couldn’t really do much about it besides telling his parents. Another of my friends got chased until they finally caught up to him and hurt him. He managed to get away and go running home before they really hurt him. They pick on a lot of kids including me. They bother people for no exact reason. I really like going to a huge park near my house. So I invite my friends to come with me so we can ride our bikes. Some of the times those kids are there but I try to stay away from them so they won’t cause me any trouble. I was having a lot of fun but all of a sudden I saw them getting closer and closer to us. I was wondering why. Then they didn’t bother my friend. They started to bother me. Then they got a bag of chips and spilled them all over me. That was the last time they crossed the line. I couldn’t take it anymore so I called the police and reported them. That was the last time they ever bothered me.

Most of the causes of violence is bullying. Bullying is a very terrible thing to experience. I’ve had to go through bullying some times in my life. Bullies start to pick on you and make you feel bad. There’s some ways to prevent that from happening. You can ignore them or speak up. You can tell a teacher or your parents. If you don’t speak up they’re always going to keep bothering you. You shouldn’t care if they call you a coward for telling. The most important part is, that you’re safe and not hurt.

There’s also cyber bullying which, is bullies going on websites like Facebook. Some of the things they do, is spam your inbox which means to send constant messages to a person and sometimes most of the things they write is mean. Or they can post it on your profile for all your friends to see what that person wrote. If they do that it can cause rumors to spread and once you get to school everyone is going to think it’s true. So a lot of people are going to make fun of you and hurt your feelings. That makes children to not come back to school. That problem has gotten so serious that a lot of people have committed suicide because of that. You shouldn’t let anyone interfere with what your goal is, even if they make fun of you. Do what you think is best for you. We all have to prevent bullying and speak up!