Do The Write Thing Challenge

The first time that I had ever experienced violence was when I was bullied last year. I wanted to cry almost every day because it was really hard to take that kind of abuse. I don't know what I did for them to treat me this way. It was hard to take that because I was never bullied. It was saddening because people were talking about me and saying things that weren't true. They were calling me really bad names that had to do with my weight. How come when I'm always bullied they only talk about my weight? I just don't get it. But I've always kept my head up high to avoid crying. But this year I couldn't hold my tears in. This is the very first time in my whole life. But when I first heard them call me a name I was shocked because all of my friends that I've ever befriended were never mean to me. Even the people that where never my friends didn't bully me. But I think that it might be because they might have been bullied before so they bully me to feel better about themselves. Maybe they have nothing better to do with their lives. Possibly they're just plain mean people. But sometimes these people will just ruin my whole day. But some days I can just take it and then they will not ruin my whole day and sometimes I don't even want to look at them. When they are mean to me like that I just ignore them like if they are ghost. But I always think to my self that they are not my friends anymore but I always come in the next day very cheerful and joyful. These are the last people on my mind and the last people that I think of. Why is there even such thing as bullying. why can’t everyone just be friendly to each other. Everyday I hope that I could just have one friend that could just stick up for me when people are being jerks. But to me you can never find a friend like that any were. But the only friends that I have are the ones that laugh when you get bullied. But what they don’t know that inside I am very sad. My friends don’t know that when you laugh at someone instead of helping them that you are also bullying that person even though you think that it is a joke. But if you have a friend that is like that then they are not your friend they are a bully. They don’t know that because all they care about is hurting you. I know because u am in this situation now in 6th grade and last year I had the same problem but I had a true friend that wouldn’t leave me hanging she actually stuck up for me and didn’t deal with no one. But these are how I deled with youth violence when I was in 6th grade.
I have trouble thinking of people in my mind and the last time I tried, I couldn't even think of anyone. It's not that I don't have friends, it's just that I'm not sure how to think of them. I think about them when I'm alone, but when I'm with people, I feel like I'm not thinking about them at all. I know that I'm thinking about them, but it's like they're not there. I feel like I'm not paying attention to them. I think about them when I'm alone, but when I'm with people, I feel like I'm not thinking about them at all. I know that I'm thinking about them, but it's like they're not there. I feel like I'm not paying attention to them.
