It has affected my life by seeing how people started smacking each other because one day when I was 9 I was at the store and I was scared because I saw that people were fighting and swearing.

The causes of youth violence is when people can't handle themselves from hitting and punching themselves.

What I can do about youth violence is stoping them from hurting themselves and by telling them to just handle there anger-ness and to hold it in.