Violence

Some people live peacefully
Some people live in a world of pain.
This violent world we were brought up into should not be allowed to be this way.

Have you ever had to deal with it all... all of the violence that surrounds us... have you ever had to run away from a criminal or murderer all this is really bad and should not go on its like a never ending song.

tell me that I am wrong that there is something left that is peaceful we've been going to think in peace.
Just walking down the street you see people fighting and going crazy I never really knew that we were wild animals.
That's why we have to learn to do the right thing. Change the minds of others and have them do the same.

Violence can be stopped if we stand together as one and fight for our rights to live freely as one group, one community, one nation.

If we stand to gether in rows and rows against a group of 20 or so we can defend our nation and make things right. We can stop the violence by promoting truth and love and peace and unity. We can change the world out of endless fighting and make our world peaceful again.
It appears there is a note written in blue ink at the top of the page. The handwriting is not clear enough to transcribe accurately.
