Bullying Bites!

To be truthful, violence has not been an issue in my life, but I know it is in your's. To keep things simple, violence is a negative way to lower someone's self esteem. Violence is a serious problem in the world. Because of bullying violence in my community, my daily life has changed by my knowledge. It's feeling bad about themselves, and I plan to do a self esteem building solution to stop it. Violence hasn't really affected my life, but I know it's affected your's or a friend's. Violence has a huge affect on many people's lives. I have heard stories on kids killing themselves because someone bullied them or someone has been beating them up. I think it's shocking how some people think violence and hurting other people is cool. Well, it is not for readers who think violence is awesome. I know for a fact, violence affects over 1,000 kids' lives. Violence was never really an issue in my life, but I know it is in your or a friend's life. I think youth violence is caused by bullying, negative arguments and peer pressure. I believe bullying is one of the main causes of violence. Many sources of violence come from bullying. I think negative arguments are one of the causes of violence. Think about it! One day, you're negatively arguing with someone, then the next day two are getting ready to fight behind your school. I also believe peer pressure is another cause of youth violence because you are sometimes pressured into doing things by your peers. Youth violence can be caused by bullying, negative arguments, and peer pressure. I can help change youth violence by starting a youth self-expression club, non-violent ways of communicating with the bullies, and getting bullying victims to believe they're cool, too. I'll explain the youth self-expression club. It would be a place where kids who are being bullied are reminded how cool and awesome they are. The non-violent way is just following to... bullying and finding out their purpose for bullying. Getting bullying victims to believe they are cool is just making who they told that no matter what anyone says, that he or she is a cool person. I can start a youth self-expression club, non-violent ways of communicating with the bullies, and getting bullying victims to believe they're cool, too. Because of bullying violence in my community, my daily life has changed because kids feel bad about themselves and I plan to do a solution that will build their self esteem back up to stop it. My action is going to change (improve) because kids will feel better about themselves through self expression and motivation. Take a chance and express yourself for all those young bullied readers out there, and find out how awesome you really are.
