If you want to stop violence, you should get ideas and tell it to your principle if you see someone with a weapon, so someone can see the weapon and say, it has been bullying. Since now you know what violence is.
