Fiction Poem  Violence

Gang violence has affected many people
It's killed family members and friends
Many people have suffered from violence
Tears have been shed and lives have been taken
Many people have been shot; others have been stabbed
The more funerals they're making the more hearts they're breaking Gangs make people feel superior
But in reality they are inferior