Poem

Violence
I see our young people killing one another out
On the streets.
No wonder why our kids are losing motivation.
when is this violence gonna end?
We have these stop The Violence events
but are we just doing this for pretend?
because at the end people leave out the same way they came in.
Less violence if families show kids more love and care.
Someone new is dying from violence every single day when are we gonna take a stand as people and say
"This is not okay"
But at the end of the day, there's hope.
Violence is not the answer.
