Dear Violence,

I hate the darkness that you bring to our souls, which causes us to become violent and hatred people. You cause disasters to happen, which causes us to become unprotected people. I see teens are your main targets, those who are youngsters of our nation, than after you destroy their lives. They were once living, but now they're buried 6 feet under. Their put to sleep, but it wasn't their bed time, you destroy a soul which had a future. Life isn't easy, and especially with you in it. This world was once green, but now it's bloody, human killing humans, a world without a ending of you.

Now we have students who are afraid of where they live, and very soon have a hard time getting to school. Not knowing if they're would be a drive-by, or someone who randomly comes and beats them, trying to rob them. After they just hold the sorrow and pain to themselves. I hate how you do that, a perfect student who is looking to make a change in his/her life. I also hate how you also make students who recently just graduated, become a street life person, selling drugs, joining a gang groups, or even buying a gun because now they are big enough to kill another. They were once a human, but now I don't know what you call them.

Even though these people go to jail, you won't leave their backs. They cause themselves to keep going in life with you by their sides. What's the meaning of the word, there's many ways to explain it, but the best definition for me is, something that is not useful. You take more than 5 million peoples lives annually. I can't stop you, many people have protested and made big accomplishment 's in stopping you, but when I have a bit of a smile on my face, later in life a change might happen, were that one smile turns into a dust that just blew away. Life is hard but I have to keep fighting, you are my worst enemy, but my castel will never fall.
before you. Many people call you the devil, a person who was once an angel, one of the most beautiful one’s in heaven, but now look at you, one of the ugliest creatures.

Your achievement is to destroy our society, but I won’t let that happen. I will protect my soul, and help the violence stop. People was once beautiful to our society, but now a day’s their just like death in the shadows. I thought people who listen, but with you on top of their shoulders, it’s impossible, but I will never give up faith, and fight until I die. You cause sadness, and there is no way to stop that. You have caused many disasters, which was not counted for, but I only wish of one thing that would go away, and that is the memories of you that just keep flashing before my eyes.

Sincerely,
