People fight because they want to start trouble.

They fight fight fight like it's a royal rumble.

Kids fight over little stuff like their toys or like it is never enough.

When kids fight they show bad examples for the kids around them.

When the little kids look at the older kids they think that they are bad and want to be like them.

This is not good because they should not be fighting.