Stop Trying To Impress

I think that youth violence is occurring far too much. I think that the police need to treat this kid like an adult and put more pressure on them. My experience with violence isn't like anyone. I was an lookout when my boys were robbing someone. It was the worst day of my life. Also the people that they rob find out what had happen and went to our house looking for their staff. They didn’t press charges but I learned that I should stay away from them because I could of went to jail.

Violence affected my life because I was never the kind of person to do anything but the people your around or with end up missing your life up. I became someone I never wanted to be. Until I stayed away from them. I started to play basketball more and stayed away. Violence can change anyone, you can always change back. The people that you may care about or always be around can make you do the wrong thing. I never knew we were going there to do that. I when they went inside without anyone there I was lost. Life is crazy but it a ride everyone take.

I think the cause of youth violence is because the people their around or the people they want to please. I think that youth always want to be like their friend or they want to make money and life is always about money. I think that when the youth start to sell drugs, rob people, or killing someone it bounding to happen again. A lot of people in the project all around the united states has to have drugs or guns. The youth want to impress anyone they can in a good or bad way that how life is everyone make mistake but the violence need to stop.

I can try to stop youth violence by trying to help the people that trying to do anything to impress anyone. I can help stop violence by trying to explain why you should never impress someone that doesn’t care about you or your family. I can help by telling them that the best people to impress is your teacher or your coach in anything. I can explain if they want to end up in jail or do they want to have a great life. Life is the best thing to have but the only thing you can do is to enjoy it. By going to school and do what you love.

In conclusion I that young violence is occurring far too much in the united states. I think that the police need to treat kids like their adult. So they would see how it would feel. I think that the best way to do it. The time I did something was when i was a look out for my boy when he was robbing someone that was the worst thing I ever done.
