The causes of the violence among youth are bulling in school, same time in their homes or problems with their friends. Some adolescents utilize drugs and can start the violence too. Something that is a big problem is that there are adolescents that think that the problems they have to solve with violence.

Violence affects my life because sometime I see too much violence in the news and I only thing in my family and me or my two little sisters because I say what will happen to them if the violence come to them or affect them. I encounter in the streets, in boys people sometime in school when the students start to make bulling to the others students.
To prevent the violence I have to respect the others people, not make bolting to my friends. Solve my problems talking, not fighting. In school because for me the better thing that you can do to solve your problems is talking like a person.
