Veins in your body
Isolates blood
Overwhelming pain
Lost soul taken by gun shots
Evaporates the thoughts of childhood memories
Never seeing sunlight again
Confused casualties drown in blood and sorrow
Emotions flow through your veins as you explode

Violence is a violation of human nature
Indifferent by race, creed, or gender
Obstacles block the course of freedom
Love is not enough when criminals roam as simple man or woman
Explosive emotions flow the streets when politician pretend they understand
Nothing will change if humans do not take control stop the violence
Consequences never answer the hard questions
Enemies among the living ...the dead are free

Veins in your body
Isolates blood
Overwhelming pain
Lost soul taken by gun shots
Evaporates the thoughts of childhood memories
Never seeing sunlight again
Confused casualties drown in blood and sorrow
Emotions flow through your veins as you explode