I can't sleep

I can't sleep at night with people dying from people making a life or taking decisions. No one knows what's going on, there is no rhyme or reason.

I can't go to sleep with all the ambulance sirens going on and on down the block trying to help another victim who just got shot.

I can't go to sleep when people are crying for help from winding up dying like there! Past relatives.

I can't go to sleep while young teenagers are talking about doing and selling drugs for money.

People need to start making smarter decisions about what they're going to do with their lives instead of killing people left and right.
Instead of you keeping saying you want to start World Peace, stand up and do something about it.
