Violence
I was in front of school waiting for my father. I was with my friends. We were talking about stories. When we suddenly heard a "Boom, Boom"! We all looked up and saw two cars crash into each other.

Violence has affected my life in many ways. When I was little, I couldn't go outside because my parents thought it would be dangerous. After the car crash, I would get nightmares and get scared to be in one.

There are many causes of violence. One, is kids playing violent video games. Second, childhood tragedies. Lastly, bullying from peers or others.

We can help decrease violence in many ways. One, is we can have talks with teachers about bullying or problems. Second, is prevent bullying before it happens. Lastly, talk to our parent about our day at school. In conclusion, many people have been hurt and have died even if they didn't deserve to because of violence.
