This is a story about mother and my step father. My mother and I used to be very close; then he came, my stepfather.

One night at my house, my mother and my stepfather were going out. Before all this happened, they were both sleeping and my stepfather was sleeping and then he got ready and left my mother. And then she woke up. She called him.

"What the hell is wrong with you. I thought we were going together?" My mother said "You should have woke me up. Did you not want me to come? You could have said something."

Then he came home around 2 am after the party. He is drunk and all. My mother goes to him,

"What the hell is wrong with you? Don't ever answer that I will tell you, YOU ARE DUMB. Why would you leave me DUMMY?"

"I did not want to wake you up.", my stepfather replied

"See that is that DUMB stuff that I am talking about." My mother said.

Then he hit her. My stepfather hit my mother unlike a man. What “REAL MAN” hits a women. This dude is not is not a “real man”. Then my mother tried to fight back with him but the cops came and the took my stepfather for 5 days.
