Do the Write thing Essay

Youth violence makes me feel sorry for those who make violence. It makes me feel like I had done something so wrong that I feel guilty. Youth violence just makes me feel down. It's a very big thing that affects me so much.

Youth violence is usually caused by poverty or homelessness. When a boy needs to buy medicine for his sick mother, any way out he'll take it. Youth violence can also be caused by revenge or avenge. You see your friend get hurt. Sometimes, you feel like you need to do something.

Youth violence can be solved by thinking of another way. You can sit down and talk with someone about your problems. Or try to make amence with your enemies. Violence isn't the answer to everything.