Violence Essay

Violence has affected my life in a lot of different ways. That now it makes me be nervous around a lot of certain people because I don't know what they are going to do or when they are going to do something to me or any person around me. And what actually made me nervous was one day I was getting off the school bus and I started walking towards my house and out of nowhere someone appeared behind me and talked to me on my shoulder but I didn't know the boy at all. But I found it so weird that I didn't know him and he just wanted to hit me even though he hit me a few times. I tried to run because he pulled a pocket knife out and at that moment I felt like if I was gonna die but thanks to God I didn't. This story affected my life because I am at the point where I don't trust nobody around me now.

The causes of youth violence are just ways of teaching youth how to be violent and I think that's just wrong because the youth shouldn't have to see violence because then you are basically teaching things that the youth shouldn't be learning. Also it can be anyone because just by the youth watching adults be violent the youth will want to do it too. Another cause of youth violence is when the youth get abused and then they would just want to be afraid of being around people.
Nicole Ezzey

"Remember that today is your day. Your day to live. Your day to love...your day to make this world a better place for you."

I...
And I don't think that the youth should be abused because then they will be afraid of that person who abused them. Also when those youth when they have children thats why I think youth should not be involved in violence.

What I can do about youth violence is not only one thing that I can do but the most important thing I can do is when ever I see a youth watching someone else be violent I would try my best to remove that youth from there so they won't have to see what's violence because they shouldn't have to see things that are so violent. But another thing I can do about youth violence is talk to my friends and ask them to help to try to stop all the violence that is currently happening in our society to remember, I just don't understand the point of being violent, why can't we just have a calm society to remember. I would just like to understand why people abuse others but when that person abuses them back they don't like it, so why do it to other's?