Avoid Violence

Violence is a everyday thing, we either see it, hear about it or be a victim about it. When I hear about it, it makes me feel like what could I have done to solve it. Violence is not the solution, people should know better, what's right from wrong. When I see it, it makes me think like I'm really part of the violence because I'm not doing anything. Don't be afraid to stand up for your self or against violence.

My community has violence, my life is a part of the community. So it's right to speak up and keep violence out. It's better and has a great feeling to be known for doing something heroic than something devastated. Violence affects me because sometimes I'm scared to step out the house on my own not knowing about what can happen to me.

Stay out of fights, violence, gangs and wrong decisions. It's not worth it, all you get is a bad outcome. If children see what's happening violence will fain and change their future decisions. Just do the right thing, be a leader not a follower and set examples. Be a role model that person never had.
