Violence

Violence has affected my life because on television on the news people die in the craziest ways. I find it crazy how people have so much of this thing called hate. Hate and Jealousy are what causes violence. People kill other people for just merchandise and brand named things. I'm thinking in my head is that worth it killing someone just for some brand. People throw away their future to show violence by shooting someone who is innocent for some shoes. Ways to prevent violence is don't encourage it go against it if you see a fight don't just stand their and watch call police authority becaue fighting can lead to knives and knives can lead to guns. And I just want the readers to think about it.
