Violence

Violence has affected my life many ways. I'm not talking about violence in my personal life, but of what I have seen and heard. Sometimes, I look at the news channel and most of the things I see in it has to be about violence. About people killing, hitting, and hurting. Desperate people for answers and reasons that explain why things happen. Violence is something that we all should not get used to because it's wrong. Because of all these things, I fear to be alone or just walk outside, and I know I'm not the only person that is, lots of people out there are too. I know I shouldn't feel scared but violence is why I don't go outside too much, and people that are scared too shouldn't feel like this either. This is how violence has affected my life.

The causes of youth violence are many. Sometimes they just want attention because they don't get enough attention and they start doing bad things. Another reason is they want to show off and start joining gangs because of a friend. And some just do it because they want money. These are causes of youth violence.

Something I can do about youth violence is put up posters in the streets, tell people that is wrong and if they see violence to report it to the police officers and adults.
I've never really been interested in music. I'm not very good at it. I don't enjoy it as much as I do other things. Sometimes I'll listen to music when I'm feeling down, but I don't usually like it. I've been thinking about getting into a new hobby, but I'm not sure what that might be. I've thought about trying a new sport or learning a new skill, but I'm not sure if I have the patience for it. I don't want to spend too much time on something that doesn't come easily to me. I'm not sure if I have the time or the energy to commit to something new. It's a tough decision to make.
