Violence in my life

Violence happen in my life was when my aunt and her boyfriend started to fight. How it affected my life, it affected my life when they were fighting. It started when my aunt's boyfriend was not helping her in the beginning or at first. But once he started helping everything change. So then that's when things started to get worse.

They started yelling then my aunt was throwing glass things at him. After all of that they broke up. Also all my life my family told me not to hit girls. But when I seen this it made me feel that it was okay. But still I did not do it.

What are the cause of youth violence? It is killing, people looking at people away they do not want to be looked at. Also people stepping on people shoes.

What could I do about youth violence? I can make a violence's free program and debate about violence. I can get someone who is their friend or family to talk to them. Also you could try to work it out or turn it out. Finally you could walk away and leave them alone and forget it ever happened.
