Just STOP

Violence. There are many ways of explaining it. Bullying. Shooting. Hitting. Violence is everywhere you go. For me its sometimes at school and at home. There's nothing I can do, but worry about myself.

Violence affected my life because sometimes I get scared to walk out my house because I hear on the news about shootings and killings, and I get scared. Violence has also affected my life because my sister and I get into it a lot. We always argue for the most stupid things. I'm mostly the one to end it because I just stop talking. My sister would go on and on. She always wants the last word and I'll give it to her because I know I'll be
JSET STOP

Note: Here are more notes:

In order to successfully hit the target, you must understand the principles of and practice. Always be prepared and practice thoroughly.

As you progress, you can go back and focus on:

In addition to mastering the

Also, it's sometimes not

Remember to work on it and be

Practice and perfect

And always analyze your

Because I don't want to use

Sports and activities

May it be sailing, sailing,

Also remember my list

Because I don't want to use

Into it to help me

And it's important to

I'm working to

Also, it's important to Stop by and enjoy

It's working on

To be continued

or process 11 times
the bigger person ending it. Sometimes, it would lead to fighting, even fist fighting. Sometimes either one of us would end up with scratches and/or bruises. It would mostly start when we argue and it starts to get dull and she'll probably say something like "OK", I'll say it back, than she'll say it again and I'll just stop after that. I'll stop because I know the arguments not going to get me anywhere, So what's the point of it?

My point is, you shouldn't continue an argument, especially if you know the person your arguing with, won't stop, be the bigger person and just stop it.