Violence is not good

Violence affected my life when my brother almost went to jail for defending himself against someone he didn't even know. One night my brother came home and he was super angry. He said that when he and some of his friends were coming out of the movie room and when they were in the lobby some guy called him a swear but he let it pass because he didn't know the guy. The next time he see's him my brother gets into a fight with the guy and chokes my brother. Then see's my talking on the phone and then starts running when he see's the police car. The causes of youth violence is kids in gangs thinking their all that and bad and nobody can tell them what to do. What I can do about youth violence is not to get into any fights and if I'm in school and I see someone fighting I tell a teacher or an adult.
